HIGHLIGHTS

Apply online: Save time and reduce errors by applying for your big game permits online at wildlife.utah.gov.

Draw result privacy: In the interests of protecting applicant privacy and to comply with recent changes in governmental records access laws, applicants may obtain access to their own draw results only. Draw results will be available by April 27, 2007, at wildlife.utah.gov or toll-free 1-800-221-0659.

Lifetime License questionnaire: Lifetime licensees may now complete their questionnaire and select their region hunting choice online at wildlife.utah.gov/lifetime. For complete details see pages 25–26 of this proclamation.

Sportsman permits: Beginning this year, applications for Sportsman Permits must be submitted online. The application period for these permits is November 1–15, 2007.

Buck/bull combo hunt: New this year, 2,000 hunters in the Northern Region will have the opportunity to hunt buck deer and bull elk at the same time. Hunters who draw a buck/bull combination permit will receive a buck deer permit that's valid ONLY on any bull elk units in the Northern Region from October 6–18, 2007. Hunters will also receive an any bull elk permit that's valid on all general season any bull elk units across the state.

Management bull elk hunts: In an effort to remove excess bulls from the populations of four specific hunt units (San Juan, Southwest Desert, Fillmore/Pahvant and the Monroe) with very high bull to cow ratios, the Division has created a management bull elk hunt. Group applications are not accepted for these hunts. See pages 28–29 for details.

Shed antlers: Shed antlers and horns in the Northern Region general buck deer boundary may not be picked up February 1–April 30, 2007. All other regions have a year-round shed antler and horn collecting season.

Applying as a group: Groups are encouraged to apply online. If applying as a group through the mail be sure to send ALL applications in the SAME envelope.

Nonresident fishing bonus: Nonresident big game permits also serve as fishing licenses. If a nonresident purchases a fishing license in addition to a big game permit, however, the Division will NOT issue a refund for the fishing license.

Dedicated hunters: The application period to apply for the Dedicated Hunter Program is January 17–February 16, 2007. The unused permit return and region change deadline for current dedicated hunters is February 16, 2007.

Youth deer hunters: Any eligible person 18 years of age or younger on August 18, 2007, (the opening day of the archery deer hunt) may hunt ALL three general deer seasons IF they purchase a general any weapon OR a general muzzleloader permit. The minimum age to hunt big game in Utah is 14, or 13 if the person's 14th birthday falls within the calendar year for which the permit is issued.

Mandatory reporting: Premium limited entry, limited entry, management bull elk, CWMU and Once-in-a-Lifetime hunters must report hunt information within 30 calendar days after the end of the hunting season online at wildlife.utah.gov OR by calling 1-800-221-0659. Hunters have to report even if they did not harvest an animal.

Harvest and population trend tables: The harvest and population tables that appeared in past proclamations are now available on the Division's Web site.

Proclamation correction: If errors are found in this proclamation after it is printed, the Division will correct them in the electronic copy that is posted online. Visit wildlife.utah.gov/proclamations to view all of the Division's proclamations and guides electronically.

Antlerless Addendum: The Antlerless Addendum to this proclamation will be available by June.

Make a difference: You can get involved in the decision-making process regarding Utah wildlife management, rules and regulations by attending your local Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meetings. For more information on the RACs and schedules, visit wildlife.utah.gov/public_meetings.

Private Lands: While taking wildlife or engaging in wildlife-related activities, a person may not, without the written permission of the owner or person in charge, enter upon privately owned land that is cultivated or properly posted. "Cultivated land" means land which is readily identifiable as: 1) land whose soil is loosened or broken up for the raising of crops; 2) land used for the raising of crops; or 3) pasturage which is artificially irrigated. The Division cannot guarantee access to any private land. If you plan to hunt in an area that is made up of all or mostly private lands, you must also obtain WRITTEN permission from the landowner or an authorized representative of the landowner.

Protection from discrimination: The Division receives federal financial assistance from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the U.S. Department of the Interior and its bureaus prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability or sex. If you believe that you have been discriminated against in any program, activity or facility, or if you desire further information please write to: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Office for Diversity and Civil Rights Programs-External Programs, 4040 North Fairfax Drive, Suite 130, Arlington, VA 22203.

Division funding: The Division is mostly funded by the sale of hunting and fishing licenses and through federal aid made possible by an excise tax on the sale of firearms and other hunting and fishing related equipment.

RESPONSIBLE OHV USE

Since more and more sportsmen are making use of off-highway vehicles (OHV) while hunting, Utah State Parks wants to remind riders of the importance of education and helmet use.

Properly fastened helmets, having at least a U.S. Department of Transportation approved safety rating for motorized use, are required for all OHV operators and passengers under the age of 18. Additionally, Utah law requires that OHV operators ages eight to 15 possess an OHV education certificate in order to legally operate a machine on public land (operators 16 years of age and older must have a driver's license or an OHV education certificate). It is illegal for any child under age eight to operate an OHV on public land.

Education classes play an important role in injury prevention by teaching young riders and their parents about safe riding, weight distribution, handling, shifting, speed, and riding within your ability.

For OHV education, registration and safety information visit stateparks.utah.gov or call 1-800-OHV-RIDE.

CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE

What is Chronic Wasting Disease?

Chronic wasting disease (CWD) is a relatively rare neurological disease found only in wild and captive deer, elk and moose in North America. It is generally found in less than one percent of wild elk, between one to 15 percent of wild deer populations, and only one moose in the wild.

CWD belongs to a family of diseases known as transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSE) or prion diseases. Other TSE diseases include scrapie in domestic sheep, bovine spongiform encephalopathies or mad cow disease, and Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease in humans. Although CWD shares certain features with other TSE diseases, it is a distinct disease apparently affecting only deer, elk and moose.

What are the clinical signs of CWD?

Chronic wasting disease attacks the brains of infected animals, causing them to become emaciated, display abnormal behavior, lose bodily function and eventually die. Other symptoms include excessive salivation, loss of appetite, excessive thirst and urination, holding the head in a lowered position, and drooping ears.

How is CWD diagnosed?

The prion that causes CWD accumulates in certain parts of an infected animal, including the brain, eyes, spinal cord, lymph nodes, tonsils, and spleen. The brain stem and/or lymph nodes are collected from dead deer or elk and examined microscopically using special techniques to identify the CWD prion.

CWD in Utah

Chronic wasting disease was first discovered in Colorado in the 1960s. CWD is now found in several states, including Utah. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources (DWR) first began looking for chronic wasting disease in 1998. Because CWD-positive deer were discovered in western Colorado in 2002, the DWR stepped up its surveillance program and looked more aggressively for the disease. The first positive animal was identified in 2002 as a result of this testing effort near Vernal. Since that time, CWD also has been found on the La Sal Mountains near Moab and in central Utah near Fountain Green. For an update on CWD locations in Utah please view the DWR Web site: wildlife.utah.gov. The DWR will continue to conduct an annual surveillance program for the disease.

How can hunters help?

Immediately report all deer that appear sick or emaciated to a DWR office, biologist or officer.

Salt Lake Office (801) 538-4700
Southeastern Region (435) 636-0260
Central Region (801) 491-5678
Northeastern Region (435) 781-9453
Southern Region (435) 865-6100
Northern Region (801) 476-2740

Deer hunters can also help by providing the heads of harvested game animals for CWD testing at checking stations throughout the state. Hunters who harvest trophy animals from areas where testing is needed may be requested to cooperate by removing the cape from the deer in the field or by taking the head to a Division office immediately after it is caped. The DWR can then remove a tissue sample from the head for testing.

Can hunters have their deer or elk tested for CWD?

The DWR has identified sample units throughout the state from which it will collect tissue samples from harvested deer. Checking stations will be established throughout the state during hunting season to collect these samples. Samples collected by DWR will be tested without cost to the hunter. The DWR is currently only testing elk from positive areas because of the low prevalence of CWD in elk. Hunters who have their deer or elk sampled by the DWR can find the results of the test on the DWR Web site: wildlife.utah.gov/cwdtesting/. Please allow 6–8 weeks for processing. To access the results, hunters will need the submission number from the data collection receipt issued at the time their deer or elk is sampled. Furthermore, hunters will be notified personally, if their animal tests positive for CWD.

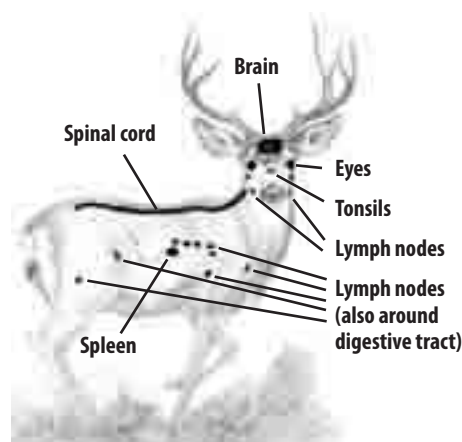

Anyone who harvests a deer or elk outside of DWR sample units, and wishes to have it tested for CWD may do so at their own expense. They can call a DWR office or check the Division Web site for the location of public testing facilities. The sampling and testing procedures established by the DWR are intended only to serve as a method to screen for evidence of CWD infection. They are not meant to provide assurance of meat quality for human consumption. The tests that are performed have a high accuracy rate, but no testing process can provide 100% accuracy. The sensitivity and accuracy of the tests, or ability to detect CWD, can vary depending on the quality of the sample and the stage of the infection.

Should Utah hunters be concerned about CWD?

The World Health Organization has stated: "There is currently no evidence that CWD in cervidae (deer and elk) is transmitted to humans."

While there is currently no evidence that CWD affects humans, hunters may wish to take these simple precautions when handling deer and elk carcasses:

- Do not harvest or eat animals that appear sick.
- Wear rubber or latex gloves when field dressing and processing game meat.
- Bone out the meat from the deer or elk and remove all fat, membranes and connective tissue.
- Minimize handling of the brain, spinal cord, spleen and lymph nodes. Do not cut through the spinal cord except to remove the head.
- Do not consume the brain, spinal cord, eyes, spleen, tonsils or lymph nodes.
- Do not use household utensils to field dress or process meat. Thoroughly clean all knives, equipment and work areas with a 50/50 solution of household bleach and water.

Corrections by the applicant can only be made using the personalized and numbered application correction letter mailed to the applicant. Corrections must be mailed to the address identified in the application correction letter and received no later than the date indicated in the letter.

(d) The opportunity to correct an error is not guaranteed. The Division reserves the right to correct applications without sending a correction letter.

(6)(a) Late applications received by March 1, 2007, will not be considered in the drawing, but will be processed for the purpose of entering data into the Division's draw database to provide:

(i) future preprinted applications;

(ii) notification by mail of late application and other draw opportunities; and

BONUS POINTS

R657-5-37(A)

Bonus points apply to each species in the Bucks, Bulls and Once-in-a-Lifetime Drawing. A bonus point is awarded for each unsuccessful application to hunt premium limited entry, limited entry, management bull elk and CWMU buck deer, bull elk and pronghorn, and for unsuccessful applications for the state's once-in-a-lifetime species—bison, bighorn sheep, moose and mountain goat.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may still apply for a bonus point only, for one or more species, by selecting the appropriate hunt choice or choices on the application and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 17–February 16, 2007.

Because bonus points are applied for by species, any person who is eligible to hunt the species may apply for a bonus point for premium limited entry, limited entry, management bull elk or once-in-a-lifetime, even if that particular hunt is not being offered that year.

To apply for a bonus point, you must be eligible for the hunt for which you are applying. For example, if you are eligible for a limited entry buck deer permit, you are eligible to apply for a limited entry buck deer bonus point.

You can apply for:

- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a-lifetime permit; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime permit.

If you apply for a permit, and a bonus point for the same species, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one premium limited entry or limited entry bonus point, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point, your application will be rejected.

Your general buck deer permit application does not affect bonus points for limited entry deer. If you draw a general buck deer permit, you will still receive a bonus point for your unsuccessful premium limited entry, limited entry or CWMU application.

The Division has retained electronic copies of application information from 1996 to present.

How your Bonus Points work in the draw:

Fifty percent (odd numbers are rounded down) of the permits for each hunt unit number are reserved for applicants with the most bonus points.

You receive one random drawing number for each species you apply for and one for every bonus point you have for that species. Your lowest random number is used in the drawing.

Bonus points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with seven bonus points and hunter B with zero bonus points apply as a group, the bonus points are averaged (3.5) and rounded down to three. The group receives three random draw numbers for the bonus points, plus one random draw number for the group application, for a total of four draw numbers. The lowest random number is used in the drawing.

In the draw for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted into groups by the number of bonus points, from highest to lowest—a 10 Bonus Point Group, a 9 Bonus Point Group, etc. Hunters applying alone will be treated as a group of one. Within each group of bonus points for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted from lowest to highest draw number. Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Any person may surrender their premium limited entry, limited entry or once-in-a-lifetime permit prior to the season opening date, for the purpose of waiving the waiting period normally assessed and reinstating the number of bonus points, including a bonus point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a hunt or receive a Bonus Point if:

- you are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting; or
- you are currently under a waiting period for that species; or
- you have already obtained a permit for that once-in-a-lifetime species; or
- you have not met the required harvest reporting requirement for premium limited entry, limited entry or once-in-a-lifetime species.

A complete copy of these regulations (R657-5-37) can be found at wildlife.utah.gov/rules.

(iii) re-evaluation on Division or third-party errors.

(b) The $5 handling fee will be used to process the late application. Any permit fees submitted with the application will be refunded.

(c) Late applications received after March 1, 2007, will not be processed and will be returned.

(7) Any person who applies for a hunt that occurs on private land is responsible for obtaining written permission from the landowner to access the property. To avoid disappointment and wasting the permit and fee if access is not obtained, hunters should get permission before applying. The Division does not guarantee access and does not have the names of landowners where hunts occur. Hunts that occur primarily on private land are indicated by an asterisk.

(8) Only a resident may apply for or obtain a resident permit and only a nonresident may apply for or obtain a nonresident permit.

(9) To apply for a resident permit, a person must be a resident at the time of purchase.

(10) The posting date of the drawing shall be considered the purchase date of a permit.

B. Youth General Buck Deer Drawing Process

R657-5-27

(1)(a) Fifteen percent of the general buck deer permits in each region are reserved for youth hunters.

(b) For purposes of this section, "youth" means any person 18 years of age or younger on the opening day of the general archery buck deer season (August 18, 2007).

(3) Group applicants must submit their applications together in the same envelope.

(4) Residents and nonresidents may apply together.

(5)(a) Group applicants are processed as one single application.

(b) Any preference points used in the group application are averaged and rounded down.

(6) When applying as a group:

(a) if the group is successful in the drawing, then all applicants with valid applications in that group will receive a permit;

(b) if the group is rejected due to an error in fees the entire group is rejected;

(c) if one or more members of the group is rejected due to an error other than fees, the members with valid applications will be kept in the drawing, unless the group indicates on the application that all members are to be rejected.

(i) The applicant whose application is on the top of all the applications for that group, will be designated the group leader.

(ii) If any group member has an error on their application that is not corrected during the correction process, the reject box on the group leader's application will determine whether the entire group is rejected.

(9) Any person who fails to pay the required fee for any license, permit or Certificate of Registration, shall be ineligible to obtain any other license, permit, tag, or Certificate of Registration until the delinquent fees and associated collection costs are paid.

R657-5-27

(1) Permits are drawn in the following order:

(a) premium limited entry, limited entry and CWMU buck deer;

(b) premium limited entry, limited entry, management bull elk and CWMU elk;

(c) limited entry and CWMU buck pronghorn;

(e) youth general buck deer;

(f) general buck deer, general buck/bull combination; and

PREFERENCE POINTS

R657-5-37(B)

Preference points are used to ensure that applicants who are unsuccessful, or who apply for a preference point in the drawing for general buck deer or the general buck/bull combination, will have first preference in the next year's drawing for the respective permits.

Preference points only apply to general buck deer and general buck/bull combination hunts and are awarded for each unsuccessful application.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may apply for a preference point only, for general buck deer by selecting the appropriate preference point code (DEE) on the application and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 17–February 16, 2007.

A preference point will not be issued if an applicant is successful in drawing any general buck deer or general buck/bull combination permit, regardless of the region or choice number. For example, if an applicant chooses the Southeastern Region as a first choice and the Northern Region as a second choice, and draws the Northern Region permit (the second choice), a preference point will not be awarded.

Preference points are not forfeited if an individual obtains a remaining permit.

The Division has retained electronic records of all general buck deer application information from the year 2000 to present.

How your Preference Points work in the draw:

Preference points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with three preference points and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (1.5) and rounded down to one. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with one preference point will be considered after all groups or individuals with two or more preference points and before all groups or individuals with zero preference points.

In a second example, if hunter A with one preference point and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (0.5) and rounded down to zero. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with zero preference points will be considered after all groups or individuals with one or more preference points have been considered.

In the drawing, the general buck deer applications are sorted into groups by the number of preference points, from highest to lowest—a 4 Preference Point Group, a 3 Preference Point Group, etc. Within each group of preference points, the applications are then sorted from lowest to highest draw numbers. (You receive only one random draw number for the general deer hunt.) Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Applicants who apply for a general buck deer permit will receive a preference point, even if they are successful in obtaining a premium limited entry, limited entry, or CWMU deer or elk permit in the drawing.

An individual may surrender their general buck deer permit prior to the season opening date for the purpose of reinstating the number of preference points, including a preference point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a General Buck Deer or General Buck/Bull Combination Permit or a Preference Point if:

You are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting.

A complete copy of these regulations (R657-5-37) can be found at wildlife.utah.gov.

(2) If permits remain after all choices have been evaluated separately for residents and nonresidents, a second evaluation will be done allowing cross-over usage of remaining resident and nonresident permit quotas.

(3)(a) Applicants will be notified by mail and e-mail of draw results by April 27, 2007. The general drawing results will be posted online at wildlife.utah.gov.

(b) Drawing results may also be obtained by calling 1-800-221-0659 (Wildlife Administrative Services), 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

(1) The list of remaining permits will be available by April 27, 2007, from Division offices, and at wildlife.utah.gov.

(2) Residents and nonresidents may obtain any remaining general deer permits. However, permits may only be available if permits remain to be distributed after the cross over procedure as provided in Section XVI.G.(2).

(3) Permits remaining after April 27, 2007, will be sold beginning at 8 a.m. on June 14, 2007, over-the-counter on a first-come, first-served basis at Division offices, through participating license agents, and at wildlife.utah.gov. R657-5-28

(b) Unsuccessful applicants who applied as a group, will receive an equally distributed refund of money remaining after the successful applicants' permits are paid for (See Section XVI.C.(6)).

DEDICATED HUNTER PROGRAM

Utah Admin. Code R657-38

If you'd like to spend more time hunting deer in your favorite part of the state, Utah's Dedicated Hunter program should be just what you're looking for.

Hunters who join the program can hunt the general archery season across the state and can hunt the general muzzleloader and rifle seasons in the region of their choice. In return, they agree to take only two deer during their 3-year enrollment period.

Those who join the program also get to participate in conservation projects that benefit Utah's wildlife. In 2006, Utah's Dedicated Hunters donated more than $1.3 million in goods and services to help the state's wildlife.

More than 9,000 hunters are currently enrolled in the program, and more hunters join every year.

HERE'S HOW TO JOIN:

Program requirements

During your 3-year enrollment period, you must volunteer at least 24 hours on wildlife conservation projects and attend one Regional Advisory Council meeting. You can choose to fulfill some of the volunteer hour requirement by paying a $20 per hour fee.

To receive your first Dedicated Hunter permit, you must complete at least eight hours on a wildlife conservation project. To receive your second permit, you must complete all 24 of your service hours and attend a RAC meeting.

Cost to join:	Residents	Nonresidents
Adult	$195	$1,032
Youth (14 to 17 years old)	$120	$799
Lifetime License Holder: Adult	$75
Lifetime License Holder: Youth (14 to 17 years old)	$37.50

The cost to enroll includes a Certificate of Registration and up to three Dedicated Hunter buck deer permits.

Joining the program

Applications for the Dedicated Hunter program will be accepted from January 17 to February 16, 2007.

To join the program, visit wildlife.utah.gov/dh and click on "How to Join" and complete the Wildlife Conservation course. The final step is to submit your paper application, Wildlife Conservation Course completion certificate and your payment to any DWR office, either in-person or by mail.

Applications must be received by 5 p.m. on February 16. If you decide to mail your application, please mail it to: Utah Division of Wildlife Resources, ATTN: Dedicated Hunter Program, P.O. Box 146301, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84114-6301.

The DWR cannot guarantee that your items will be delivered, so you may want to send them via certified mail. Check with your local postmaster for delivery options.

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

The following apply to all Dedicated Hunters:

Changing hunt region

If you'd like to change your hunt region for 2007, you must do so in writing by February 16, 2007. For information about exchanging your Dedicated Hunter permit, see Section IV., F Permit Exchanges on page 11.

Reporting harvests

If you didn't harvest a deer in 2006, return your unused Dedicated Hunter permit and tag to the DWR by February 16, 2007. If you don't, you'll be credited with a harvest. This harvest will count towards the two deer you can take during the three years you're in the program.

Permits that are returned after the deadline may be accepted under some circumstances. Participants with two recorded harvests will have few, if any, options available to them to obtain an additional Dedicated Hunter permit.

Special drawing

If you return your unused permit and tag by February 16, 2007, you'll be entered into the Dedicated Hunter Limited Entry drawing. One limited entry deer and one limited entry elk permit will be drawn for every 250 unused Dedicated Hunter tags the DWR receives. Drawing results will be posted at the DWR's Web site by late April.

Conservation projects

A list of conservation projects is available at wildlife.utah.gov/dh/projects.php. If you have an idea for a project, let your regional DWR volunteer coordinator know your idea.

Changes occur

Participants entering or re-entering the program are subject to any changes that are made in the program, so it's important to read the Dedicated Hunter Rule (R657-38) every year. The rule is posted online at wildlife.utah.gov/dh.

DEPREDATION HUNTS FOR DEER, ELK OR PRONGHORN

R657-44

When deer, elk or pronghorn antelope cause damage, hunts not listed in this proclamation may be held. These hunts occur on short notice, involve small areas and are limited to only a few hunters. The Depredation Hunter Pool Application below provides the Division with names of hunters who are interested in participating in depredation hunts. Hunters who participate in any deer, elk or pronghorn depredation hunt may not possess an additional permit for that species during the same year, except as provided in Rule R657-5 and this proclamation. Depredation hunts will be conducted in accordance with Rule R657-44.

COOPERATIVE WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT UNITS

More than 60% of the state's big game winter range occurs on private land. The increasing development to satisfy human needs on these ranges will significantly reduce Utah's big game herds and recreational opportunities unless actions are taken to preserve these lands. The CWMU Program has been developed to help in the preservation effort.

How the Program Works:

The CWMU Program provides economic incentive to landowners to keep private range and forest lands in wildlife habitat rather than succumbing to development. CWMUs also allow for free public hunting access onto the private lands enrolled in the program.

CWMUs comprise more than 2 million acres of land and will provide nearly 3,000 hunting permits for bucks and bulls in 2007. About 15% of these permits will be provided to the general public through a drawing.

Both private and public hunters generally enjoy greater hunting benefits on CWMUs in the form of improved harvest success and reduced hunter competition. While good opportunity exists for hunters to take mature animals, harvest is not guaranteed and the quality of male animals may differ greatly between units. If it is the hunter's goal to harvest a "trophy" animal, you should contact the operator of the CWMU to better understand trophy potential before applying for the hunt.

How to Participate:

Successful applicants must contact the CWMU operator to obtain the following:

(a) Hunting dates of guaranteed access within the legal CWMU hunting season framework. Realize that both the operator and the hunter must schedule around individual needs—be realistic and patient.

(b) A map of the CWMU showing access and the acreage you will be allowed to hunt. Comparable acreage should be available to private and public CWMU hunters.

(c) A copy of rules—CWMUs are allowed to develop rules of conduct for their unit. Examples of requirements may include: no pre-season scouting, checking into and out of the unit daily, limited vehicle access, no over-night camping, a marksmanship test, limiting the number of hunting companions, etc. Hunters may be asked to leave a CWMU for failure to abide by reasonable rules of conduct.

Complaint Process:

Hunters wishing to lodge complaints against a CWMU should contact the Division immediately. Biologists and conservation officers have access to complaint forms. Otherwise, the complaint may be made in person or over the telephone. Because time is of the essence, it is expected that the hunter and the operator will make every effort to resolve issues before they escalate to the Division level. If a problem cannot be resolved locally, it may be passed on to a CWMU Advisory Committee.

CWMU Hunt Seasons

The following timeframes are established by the Wildlife Board for hunting opportunities on CWMUs. Hunters should not expect to hunt longer than 3–5 days within these timeframes, although it is up to the operator to establish the number of days of hunting. Hunters are encouraged to contact the operator prior to applying to obtain specific information regarding hunt dates, weapon choice, and other rules for individual CWMUs.

HUNT TABLES

NOTE: Permit Numbers will be determined in March 2007

How to Use the Hunt Tables

The 2007 permit numbers will be set by the Wildlife Board after the application period and before the big game drawing so biologists can use up-to-date harvest and population census data. The following tables provide the number of allocated permits and the number of applications based upon their first choice for 2006. If there was a permit for residents or nonresidents in 2006, there will be at least one in 2007, unless noted in the hunt tables or in the case of an emergency closure of the hunt unit.

CWMU Any Bull Elk Permits

The following timeframes are established by the Wildlife Board for hunting opportunities on CWMUs. Hunters should not expect to hunt longer than 3–5 days within these timeframes, although it is up to the operator to establish the number of days of hunting. Hunters are encouraged to contact the operator prior to applying to obtain specific information regarding hunt dates, weapon choice, and other rules for individual CWMUs.

Archery bull elk	August 23, 2007 to October 31, 2007
Any Weapon bull elk	September 1, 2007 to October 31, 2007
Muzzleloader bull elk	September 1, 2007 to November 9, 2007

Some CWMUs are granted hunting seasons outside of these timeframes. Those displaying an asterisk (*) in the unit name have been authorized to hunt bull elk into November. These units have agreed to give public hunters the option to choose a November elk hunt.
